Bio

Luiz Soares was born October 16, 1982, in Recife Brazil the capital city of the Brazilian state Pernambuco. He was born to a middle class family of his father Antonio Soares, mother Maria Soares and sister, Terciana Soares Rayes, eight years his senior. His father was in pharmaceutical sales and was the breadwinner of the family as his mother was a stay at home mom. Both his parents instilled in Luiz the importance of hard work and good education. Luiz got his bachelor's degree in Tourism and Hospitality from the Faculdade Integrada do Recife in 2005 and started on his master's degree shortly after that in Tourism and Hospitality Management from the Universidade do Vale do Itajai. He finished his masters in 2009 which led him to his first post college job of teaching at Universidade do Alto Vale do Itajai where he taught courses on tourism for two years.

After teaching Luiz decided that he wanted to travel the world, so he joined Royal Caribbean Cruise Line as their Shore Excursion Assistant Manager. Luiz explored the world with Royal Caribbean for eight years moving from the shore excursion team to the Next Cruise sales team as the Loyalty and Cruise Sales Associate and then moving up to Cruise Sales Manager. While working for Royal Caribbean, Luiz met his husband and they decided to move to Orlando, Florida to start their life together on land.

Luiz currently works at Walt Disney World as an Inventory Specialist, where he assigns rooms to Walt Disney World Guests to maximize revenue. Luiz hasn't forgotten about his love for traveling as his husband and him continue to travel the world every chance they get. Since moving back to a life on land he loves to go to movies, try new restaurants, and explore central Florida.
